The expression shown by the Fenelon Falls goalie says it all. The Minden Monarchs scored nine goals this playoff game at the Minden arena last Tuesday, and on this one, the marksman followed the puck right through the posts. There are still a few local minor hockey teams fighting to stay alive as the playoff action heats up.

Township, board dissagree about road repairs

The Board of Education and Dysart council have a difference of opinion about the township's responsibility to maintain some of the roads travelled by school buses.

The township has received two letters from the board's business administrator Jim Bradley, expressing concern about road conditions.

One of the letters was sent to all townships in the county and said, "recent conditions have resulted in the Secondary Roads accumulating ice build up that has made these roads treacherous for driving." Bradley wrote that this winter there has been two bus accidents and several near problems, "that can be directly attributed to poor road conditions." He said that discussions with bus drivers and members of the public indicate that much of the problem is from insufficient sanding and that sanding takes place only on hills and curves and then only to a minimal level. Bradley encourage municipalities to increase sanding on roads and offered to discuss specific problem areas with the townships.

Bradley also wrote a letter to Dysart dealing specifically with the Koshlong Lake Road at Donald. He wrote the letter after one of school board's buses was involved in an accident on the road.

He said the road is being subjected to heavier traffic with the residential growth in the area and expanded programs at the 'Y' Camp. "The Board believes that the Township, for safety reasons should consider bringing the road up to a standard that can safely accommodate the increased flow of traffic that it is now handling."

Bradley did say in his letter that Dysart's roads department has done an excellent job of sanding and ploughing the road to keep it in as safe as condition as possible.

Berry objects to OMB fee

Minden council officially adopted the policy Thursday requiring that anyone seeking an Ontario Municipal Board hearing to pay an administrative fee, but not without opposition from the Deputy Reeve.

Bern Berry was away when council first approved of the fee, and after reading the by-law said he had difficulty with it.

"I look upon the OMB as the People's Court," said Berry. He said that by adopting the policy council would be taking away the rights of the individual to question the municipality's decisions.

The policy requires anyone objecting to a by-law to submit, along with the letter of objection a cheque for $100 to cover the township's administrative costs and another cheque in the amount of $125 to cover the OMB's fee.

Prior to the new policy these costs would have to be borne by the owner of the property who is subject to the planning change.

Berry suggested that instead of imposing a fee on objectors, council should make it a policy to ask the OMB to award costs of the proceeding.

If a developer requests a rezoning and an objection is sent to the OMB, it is the developer's responsibility to pay for the municipal planner, municipal lawyer, as well as his own council. Reeve Ray Moore told Berry that the new policy is designed to

Shoreline sales spell trouble

A local lawyer has issued a warning to Dysart Council that changes in the procedure governing the conveyance of shoreline road allowances could spell trouble for owners of lakefront property.

Dave Bishop told council that people who purchase the shoreline allowance abutting their property will actually lose the protection they enjoy while the municipality owns the property.

The shoreline road allowance is a 66-foot-wide strip of land that runs along the edge of the lake. When a person buys the portion of allowance which abutts his property, he is given title to the section of the 66 feet which lies above the high water

Some interesting thoughts on parenting are included in this piece provided by Roy Windover:

If You Could See What I've Seen

Parents, if you could see what I've seen, you wouldn't be so critical when I stop your child and take his beer and drugs, and have him come to the police station at 2 a.m., and call you to come and take him or her home.

They are not bad kids. They are the same ones who ring up your groceries, deliver your paper and hang out with your children. They are the same ones you see every Sunday in church.

If you could see what I've seen, you wouldn't call the police chief and the mayor to try to get that speeding ticket torn up, or complain that I had it in for your boy when I clocked him on radar at 75 mph in a 30 mph zone.

I know your insurance rates are high, but don't blame me. I'm only trying to succeed where you failed - to teach your child to drive safely.

If you could see what I've seen, you'd make the punishment a lot tougher when you catch your child drinking and driving. I had to check for signs of life in 17-and 18-year-old kids last week when I knew darn well they were dead before I arrived.

I tried to comfort the parents of those dead kids. I saw their minister stand there and cry his eyes out because he didn't teach the kids better, as if it was his fault. He sees them two hours a week. You have them the rest of the time.

If you could see what I've seen, you'd begin to teach your children at an early age some of the things that are just as important as reading and writing. For example, it is wrong to drink and drive.

If you could see what I've seen, would you still do my job every day? Ask any policeman why he stays on. He can't tell you, because he doesn't know. It can't be the pay. Your garbage collector probably makes more money at his five-day 40-hour-per-week job, and he doesn't have to work nights, weekends and holidays. Try calling your garbage collector when you need more service and asking him to come over. See what he says.

If you could see what I've seen, you'd take parenting a lot more seriously. Come along sometime. You'll get a real education.

The St. Patrick's pot luck at Club 35 was well attended and enjoyed by all on March 17th. Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally.

They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Man, 40, killed by falling tree

A 40-year-old Toronto man was killed by a falling tree while working in the bush near Gooderham on March 12.

Ray Handspiker, of Edwin Ave. in Toronto, was crushed by a tree while he and four companions were falling trees in a cedar swamp off the Fortescue Lake Road, southwest of Gooderham.

One of the trees they were cutting got hung up in a dead maple. When the maple was cut, the other tree fell, pushing the maple sideways onto Handspiker. He was taken to Haliburton Hospital but was dead on arrival.

Up for two, the Canadian Half Pint Basketball team scores another basket in their exhibition game Thursday night. Members of the local squad included, from the left, Tim Davies, Ron Yake and Sharon Kehoe, all teachers at HHSS. The Half Pints managed to hold the Haliburton All Stars to a 38-38 tie. The exhibition was sponsored by the Minden Kinsmen.

Minden OPP notes

During the week of March 6 to 12, officers of the Minden OPP Detachment investigated 36 general occurrences and 14 accidents with four persons injured.

SNOWMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Two separate snowmobile accidents on Sunday March 12 resulted in three people being injured.

The first occurred in the morning on the Iron Mine Road, north of Kinmount, Philip Brook of Markham was injured when he lost control on ice and went over an embankment.

The second accident happened on the East Moore Lake Road when a sled driven by Tim Wade was travelling at a high speed around a curve and collided with another sled that was going in the opposite direction. The second sled was driven by Carl Powell of Cobocok. Both Powell and his daughter, Jennifer, received minor injuries in the crash.

The investigation into the East Moore Lake accident is continuing and charges are pending.

THEFTS

—Four black Ski-doo covers, some tools and a two five-gallon plastic gas cans were stolen in the Kennis Lake area on County Road 7.

—A 1974 Ski-doo 440 with licence number 208655 was taken from the Loon Lake area.

—A 1979 Ski-doo 5500 Blizzard with licence number 48969 was stolen from the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Preserve.

Industrial park site a mystery

The location of Minden's potential new industrial park is still a secret.

Minden council has been negotiating with an unnamed vendor to purchase a large parcel of land suitable for industrial lots. Council is remaining closed-mouthed about the location of the land to avoid jeopardizing the deal.

An announcement about the plan has been scheduled for several weeks now but Reeve Ray Moore says the matter is in the hands of the vendor's lawyer and the sale has yet to be finalized.

On February 23, council approved a $1,000 deposit on the land and has been working towards closing the deal since then.

eliminate frivolous objections. He said it was unfair that anyone could send an objection to the OMB and convene a hearing which could easily end up costing the developer thousands of dollars even if the objection was turned down.

Moore also said that in cases where there are numerous objections to a by-law, as has happened with the flood plain zoning, the municipality has the option of waiving the administrative fee. In cases where the OMB rules in favour of the objection, the municipality will refund the objector's money.

In a recorded vote, council adopted the new policy with Berry casting the only dissenting vote.

Receding shorelines a problem

mark. The rest of the allowance is conveyed to the control of the Ministry of Natural Resources as lake bed.

Bishop says there would be no problem if the water levels in the lakes remained fairly constant, but when the water drops far below the high-water mark a problem arises.

When the water recedes the portion of the shoreline allowance controlled by the ministry becomes exposed. Bishop says because the portion of the allowance below the high-water mark is, in effect, Crown land, anyone has the right to use it with or without the permission of the abutting land owner.

"Land owners don't realize what's happening to their rights," said Bishop. He said that as available lake front property becomes more and more scarce he can envision boaters pulling their boats up onto the ministry's portion of the road allowance in front of cottage property and the cottage owners will have no right to ask them to leave.

In cases where the municipality still owns the original shoreline allowance, property owners have certain rights with regards to the use of the allowance. They are given exclusive use of the municipal land which fronts their property and can deny other people the right to use it.

Bishop told council that he believes control of the portion of the road allowance between the high-water mark and the low-water mark should become a strong public issue. He called the situation "dangerous."

Discover local government

Two weeks from today marks the beginning of local government week in Ontario, a special week that traditionally goes unnoticed in Haliburton County in spite of encouragements from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs.

Local government, which includes municipal councils, county and district councils and boards of education, is the closest and most responsive level of government to the residents of any given community.

There's an old tale that says you can't fight town hall. Most people realize, though, that this isn't the case—at least not in Haliburton County. If there's a gaping pot hole on one of our roads, we pick up the phone and give an earful to one of our township councillors. If we disagree with something that's going on at the schools, the education trustees are bound to hear about it. And if we present a convincing argument, they'll go to bat for us.

This style of personal contact is what makes local government so effective. However, it takes effort on behalf of both the public and our elected officials to maintain this contact. We have to make the effort to find out what our councillors and trustees are up to. And they, on the other hand, have to make some effort to let the public know what they are doing.

All too often, though, neither party makes that effort.

With gradual but steady reductions of federal and provincial support, the responsibilities faced by local are forced to expand. Unfortunately, as the responsibilities broaden, systems of local government become more complicated, harder to follow, and, to some extent, people lose interest in what is happening.

Local Government Week is designed to fortify the bond between elected official, municipal employees and the public. This year it would be nice to see the municipalities organizing activities to encourage more public participation and understanding. If this can't be accommodated, residents could take the initiative to get out to a council or board of education meeting.

A Rose by any other name

Do you realize that if I'd been born in Spain, I'd be illegal?

That's because Spain has very strict regulations about what Spanish parents can call their children. The rule of thumb is that anything goes, as long as the name of at least one saint appears in the moniker. That's why so many of them answer to 'Pedro', 'Maria' or 'Antonio'. Some Spaniards play it safe and "load up" on extra names - such as Don Alfonso de Borbon y Borbon, the great-great-grandson of Carlos III. Don Alfonso died in 1934 - possibly crushed by weight of his own birth certificate which contained ninety-four Christian names.

A lot of nations take a proprietorial interest in the naming of their citizens. Until 1970, the names of all French children had to be chosen from an approved list at the Ministry of The Interior. In Russia, the name 'Melor' has enjoyed the official nod of approval for over half a century. It's an acronym of Marx, Engels, Lenin, October Revolution. Cuba, on the other hand is moving in the other direction. The government there recently issued a decree announcing that Cuban babies will henceforth have short, simple names, easy to pronounce and not likely to cause embarrassment to the child.

Good news, no doubt, for the recently born Cuban twins whose mother had tried to name Biela and Proepla.

'Propela' means 'propeller', while 'biela' is Spanish for 'connecting rod'.

Americans too, have certain rules about what people may and may not call their children. You would

OMB fee is unfair

Editor:

Regarding the item in the Minden Times of March 13th, 1989 'Bylaw objectors to face bill if they wish to make an appeal to the OMB.'

How considerate of our elected council to pass a resolution to impede the residents of this community the free right of appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board.

The OMB is the only resource the taxpayers have available to them to protect their quality of life, amenities and any undesirable infringement to their properties.

Reeve Moore calls it a step in the right direction. May I ask for whom? Reeve Moore and his council, or the developers who may approach them in the future, certainly not for the people they were elected to represent.

What person on a fixed income could afford a deposit, the amount not decided on yet plus $125 per day to appear before the OMB?

The residents of Minden should be concerned about what plans this Council has for the future and what "bylaws" they have in mind, that they want to impede any attempt to file objections against them.

Remember the OMB is our only free alternative, to appeal, to protect our properties, quality of life from developers, and unjust By-laws and in some cases unjust Rezoning.

So with a stroke of a pen the Reeve and members of the Minden Council have denied us the right of appeal.

With all the plans in store for new development, I think it is time to ask them "Why"?

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

This report covers the period of March 14 to 17.

March 14 - 24 mm rain, 4.3 pH, from West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio and southern Ontario.

March 16 - 7 cm snow, 4.5 pH, from Minnesota,

Wisconsin, Michigan and southern Ontario.

March 17 - 16 cm snow, 4.7 pH, from Michigan and central Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

assume that pretty well anything goes in a country which gives the official nod to 'Dweezil' and 'Moon Unit' (the real names of rock star Frank Zappa's kids) - but that's not the case. It took Ellen Cooperman three years of difficult and expensive litigation to convince the judges to allow her to shed her name and all the oppressive male chauvinist baggage that went with it.

She finally won. Send your congratulatory telegrams to Ellen Cooperperson, New York, New York.

Mister Michael Herbert Dengler, on the other hand, was less fortunate. The Minnesota State Court unsympathetically quashed his attempt to change his name to, as his lawyer so poetically described it: "one that symbolizes his interrelationship with society and reflects his personal and philosophical identity."

Mister Dengler wanted to change his name to '1069'.

You would think that Great Britain, that mighty cradle of free speech, would let its citizenry name its kids just about anything they liked, but Audrey and Hugh Manwaring-Spencer have discovered differently.

Recently the Manwaring-Spencers, who live on the Isle of Skye, had a daughter. The parents dutifully notified the British Registrar of Births what they wished to name their child. To wit: Princess Dulcima Rosetta Manwaring-Spencer.

A few months later the parents received a letter informing them that their daughter's name was illegal.

"Based upon an Order in Council" the letter huffed, "the name Princess is not a recognized forename in this country because it is part of the Crown's royal prerogative"

In other words, the name Princess was verboten because it might tick off the Queen.

But the Manwaring-Spencers are a doughty tribe. They wrote to Buckingham Palace asking if, in fact, Elizabeth would be badly put out, knowing that a wee Scottish lass on the Isle of Skye answered to the name Princess.

A royal aide wrote back: "You may rest assured that you have caused no offence to the Queen and you may continue to use the word as your daughter's Christian name."

Wonderful news for Princess Dulcima Rosetta. Not to mention entertainers like Prince, King Kong, and the rock group Queen.

And if anybody comes across the hero of that old Gene Chandler rock and roll classic, tell him it's alright.

The Duke of Earl can come out of hiding.

Drawing cartoons requires a great deal of concentration

Creating masterpiece cartoons

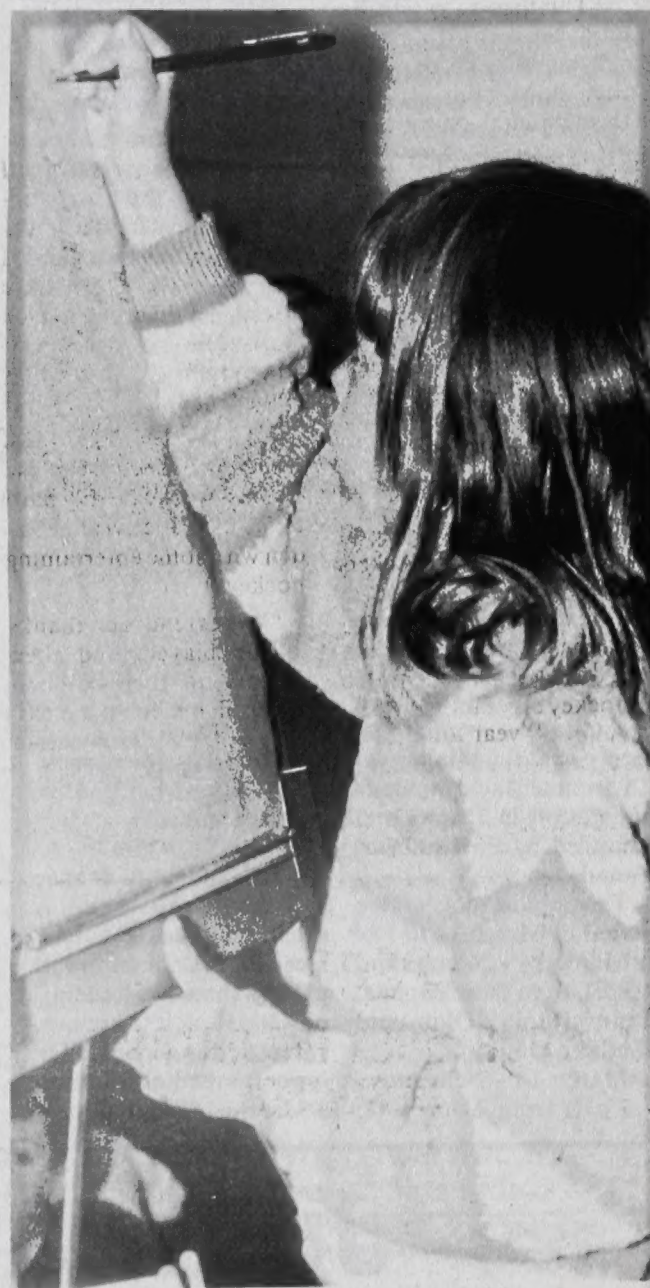

Cartoonist Anker Odum provided a demonstration to a group of students from Mrs. Davis' classes at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery last Thursday afternoon. Odum, a multi-talented artist who creates the editorial cartoons for The Times, has a display of his work at the gallery. The students, who came armed with pencils and paper got some helpful hints from Odum and were soon at work creating cartoons of their own. In turn, the students helped Odum to come up with ideas for this week's editorial cartoon, which appears on Page 4.

A relaxing art form

Complementing the variety of Anker Odum's cartoons, paintings and sketches at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery this week will be the creative works of some students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School. The Students learned about the art of cartooning from Odum during a demonstration at the gallery on Tuesday.

Sir Sam's plans for expansion

The owner of Sir Sam's ski resort has come to Dysart council looking for support of his plans for expansion.

Bob Bishop attended last week's council meeting and told councillors he was, "looking for comfort" from council that he had their support for work he intends to do in the next 12 months.

A new quad chair-lift, expansion of the parking lot and improvement of the road leading to the resort are among the improvements mentioned by Bishop. The cost of the improvements will run in the neighbourhood of $680,000, an amount that is a "substantial investment to make in Haliburton at any time" according to Bishop.

To help pay for the work, Bishop wants to sever six to eight lots off of the ski hill to sell as recreational lots.

Reeve Murray Fearrey commended Bishop for contributions he's made in increasing the county's profile. "You've put Haliburton on the map," he said. Councillor John Parish agreed, saying "Haliburton's best-kept secret is now known."

Addressing the concern that clearing the hill to make room for the new ski lift will aggravate a run-off problem, Bishop said that the run-off from the hill has been reduced since he started running Sir Sam's. He said he has done some digging and blasting to ease the problem and now most of the run-off goes into

Glen Lake.

In terms of long-range plans, Bishop said he would like to add some accommodations to the chalet and strive for a resort image like Hidden Valley has. As far as skiing goes, Bishop said "we've had Hidden Valley beat off the map for years."

Bantams close great season

The Minden Bantams hockey season came to a close recently as the team bowed to a tough Oakwood squad in the third game of a best-two-out-of-three series.

"This team of young men enjoyed one of their most successful seasons, since they have been together, throughout the last number of years," coaches Dave Dollo and Brian Shaw said. In the 10-game round-robin playoff series, the Bantams recorded seven wins, two losses and one tie to finish in first place.

Their regular season record was eight wins, four losses and two ties, including six wins out of the final seven games leading up to the playoffs.

The team, led by second year players Rob Ackersblade, Hunter Obee, Mike Muli, Jaime Dollo, Jason Scarlett, Darren Sawyer and Jason Klett played superb hockey all year long. "The hockey all year long. The acter and strong sportsmanship this year."

First year players Philip Boyle, Oliver Greer, and Kevin Buchanan fit in nicely with the veterans and made large contributions. Jay Hughes and Scott Muirison made great strides in coming back to the game after not playing hockey for several years.

The coaches also give credit to the strong goaltending for the team's impressive record. "To win as many games as we did this year, you have to have strong goaltending which Aaron Hie provided all season long."

"We are very proud of what we accomplished this year. We became close friends, worked really hard and hope we provided Minden with some entertaining hockey."

"We extend our thanks to the players and their parents for their co-operation which made it a pleasure to coach in our minor hockey system."

The director of the Haliburton Highlands Museum has presented his proposed budget for 1989 to Dysart Council, asking for an increase of 11 per cent in the township's funding.

Tom Ballantine attended last week's council meeting and presented council with a draft of the museum's budget. He is requesting that council contribute $66,565 to the operation of the museum, up from $60,000 contributed in 1988.

Ballantine says the increase is necessary to cover increasing maintenance costs and to pay for $3,000 worth of major repairs on Reid House. These needs are reflected in the 49 per cent increase in maintenance costs predicted for 1989.

On the revenue side, Ballantine expects a decrease of 17 per cent from last year. This drop in revenue can wholly be attributed to the fact that last year the museum received a provincial capital grant of $6,656 to help pay for the installation of climate-control equipment. With no major capital expenditures planned for 1989, Ballantine says there is not much point in applying for grant money. He has projected that the museum will take in $28,350 this year from admission fees, operating grants, bank interest, community support and donations. This income will cover 29.5 per cent of the $96,115 projected costs.

Ballantine told the councillors that in 1988 the museum attracted a record attendance of 4,400.

Cadets pass Gold Star tests

Three Cadets from the Haliburton Army Cadet Corps successfully completed their Gold Star testing on March 18 in Belleville.

Cadet Warrant Officer Christopher Allaire, Cadet Sergeant George Simmons and Cadet Sergeant Calum Wood will soon be receiving their Gold Star, indicating they have attained the top level of Cadet qualifications.

Gold Star Testing is a set of national exams which fourth-year cadets may attempt. These exams are broken down into two phases, the first being a series of written exams and the second being a practical demonstration.

In February, a representative from Army Cadet Headquarters at CFB Trenton came to Haliburton.

The boys were required to write three different exams in one evening. These exams consisted of basic military knowledge, the use of map and compass and field craft training. All three cadets passed these tests, which qualified them for the second phase of testing.

On March 18, cadets from all over central Ontario met at the Belleville Armouries to begin testing at 9 a.m.

The second phase testing had Allaire, Simmons and Wood giving a lesson on drill, a classroom lesson and a field test on the use of a map and compass. The candidates completed their testing at 6 p.m.

Hooked on Broadway

On Sunday, April 2 at 2 p.m., the Minden Skating Club will once again be holding their annual Carnival.

The theme "Hooked on Broadway" will bring back memories from a lot of the popular shows such as Oklahoma, Grease and West Side Story.

Guest skaters will be the exciting pair team of Michelle Menzies and Kevin Wheeler. Michelle is a member of the Preston Figure Skating Club and Kevin is from the Brussels Figure Skating Club. They train with the well known pair coach, Kerry Leitch, in Kitchener at the National Pairs Training Center. Both have previously skated with other partners but have now been together 4 1/2 years winning numerous medals at Sectional, Divisional and Canadian competitions. In 1987, they were the Junior Pair Champions of Canada and this year at Senior level placed 4th at the Canadian Championships. Their lifts, death spirals and throw jumps will thrill everyone and be a tremendous addition to the show which will also feature all the local talent demonstrating the result of their years' work. They always perform better, of course, for a full-house so be sure to get your tickets beforehand from any club member to avoid lining up at the door.

"Hooked on Broadway"? You will be during this year's carnival!

Local arcade promotes good, clean fun

The owner of the "Just for the Fun of it" amusement arcade in Haliburton has been granted her operating license by Dysart Council.

Joan Sisson started operating the arcade with her partner Paul Brown in December under a 90-day trial basis. Brown has since left the enterprise and Sisson is now running the arcade as a sole proprietorship. The $500 municipal license is retroactive to when the business first opened its doors.

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said council was satisfied with the way the arcade had been run and would have no problem granting Sisson her operating permit. When "Just For the Fun of it" was first proposed, Dysart council had some reservations about granting a license to the arcade because of problems relating to similar establishments in the past.

Sisson and Brown attempted to avoid problems such as delinquency and the sale and use of illegal drugs by insisting that all patrons of the arcade become members. Members of the arcade must register their name and home phone number and are issued a membership card. A large sign in the arcade clearly states the house rules; no smoking, no alcohol, no drugs, no profanity and shirts and shoes must be worn. Any person violating any of the rules automatically loses his or her membership.

Sisson also requires that any person under the age of 18 must have his or her parents written permission to join the arcade. The arcade's atmosphere was such that Sisson has had whole families buy memberships.

Since granting the temporary license for Sisson's arcade in December, Dysart Council has passed a by-law regulating the operation of amusement arcades. In addition to the $500 annual license, future arcades with more than four machines will have to pay a $25 fee for each additional game. Because "Just for the Fun of it" was in operation before the by-law is passed, Sisson is exempt from the $25 fee. Lakehaven Restaurant, which also has video games, is also exempt from the additional fee.

The $500 annual fee is the maximum allowed by provincial law. Council wished to stop people from setting up fly-by-night operations during the summer to take advantage of the tourist trade.

Students promote recycling

Thanks to the efforts of two students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School, The Times will now be encouraging area residents to recycle their discarded newspapers, cans and bottles with a series of public service ads.

Jennifer Oitment and Meaghan Obee spent an entire day at The Times office last week creating ads to be placed in the paper when there is space available. The idea is to encourage residents to take advantage of the recycling bin that Minden Council has located at the dump.

Jennifer, a Grade 6 student, and Meaghan, grade 5, are in Mrs. Davis' enrichment class. Both were involved in the class effort to encourage Minden Council to get a recycling bin and now they want to see the bin used by everyone in the townships.

During their day at The Times office, Jennifer and Meaghan created more than a dozen ads of various shapes and sizes. These ads will now appear from time to time in the paper as public service announcements.

Your Business

In the interest of enhancing the business climate in the Highlands, the Haliburton County Development Corporation is pleased to sponsor this informative business-oriented column. The material in this report was prepared by the Small Business Branch, of the Ontario Ministry of Industry, Trade & Technology.

HIRING PEOPLE REQUIRES GOOD PLANNING

A major concern for most small business owners in Ontario is that potential minefield known as human resources.

Managing people is one of the single most important aspects of running any business successfully, and it's frequently one of the last areas to get any attention. But in many cases, the entrepreneur may be the worst type of person to be in charge of hiring, training and managing people. Like book-keeping and accounting, hiring people may be one of those tasks that should be delegated if the owner feels that it is one of his or her weaknesses. He or she can also attend one of the many conferences and workshops that are offered in this area.

From a 10-person logging operation in Northern Ontario to a software company in Ottawa or a trendy delicatessen in Markham, the basic steps of defining a job, finding the right person and then managing the staff properly are more or less the same.

"Competition for good employees is very fierce now, even for receptionists and secretaries, and it helps to plan in advance to have a pay and benefits policy that will both attract and hold on to staff."

Personnel consultants identify the following key steps in developing a human resource system:

1. Determine your labour needs for the coming year as far in advance as possible so you can do some planning.

2. Next, recruit candidates for the position, usually by advertising. The advertising can be aimed at a broad audience and placed in a local newspaper, or it can be targeted more specifically, by advertising in an industry newsletter or magazine if you need someone with very well-defined skills.

3. Be sure you know exactly what you are looking for. Be clear about the job to be done and make sure you are able to describe it precisely. Then select the candidate that best fits this description.

4. Training and orientation should help new employees adapt to the norms of the company and learn its values. They should also be told what their job performance will be measured against.

5. Pay scales and benefits packages are usually set by local market conditions and can be determined simply by asking other people in the same industry.

Finally, managing staff is a dynamic process. It's always changing because people, our society, and the accompanying expectations and regulations are changing. It shouldn't be thought about once a year, but rather should be the subject of some regular attention and study.

The Haliburton County Development Corporation was created to help business grow. Our manager, Andy Campbell, will be pleased to show you all the services available through the corporation. For more information call 457-3555 or visit our office on York St., Haliburton.

Caterpillars coming back

It looks as though the Highlands will be fighting off another invasion of caterpillars this summer, the chairman of the county forest management committee says.

The growing infestation of Forest Tent Caterpillars will probably reach its peak this year, Don Shortreed said at the last county council meeting.

And while the Forest Tent Caterpillar is the immediate problem, his committee, in co-operation with the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Canadian Forestry Service are keeping an eye on the spread of Gypsy Moths into the county.

Gypsy moths have made their way into the Highlands, but the number of these destructive insects is still very low. There is no immediate need for a spray program here, said Shortreed. However, he is hoping to encourage public participation in monitoring the growth of the moth's presence in the Highlands.

According to Shortreed, the ministry will be putting out a new map this spring showing the extent of the moth's presence in the province. He said the ministry is also putting together a package that will help people identify Gypsy Moths, their caterpillars and their eggs.

Action packed game in Haliburton

The Minden Novice "C" are into the final playoffs now against Haliburton and March 19 we travelled over to their ice for a 4 p.m. faceoff. Everyone was geared for this game and both teams were ready to play. It was a back and forth game with lots of action and defensive work in both ends. The first period remained scoreless and not until the top of the second period did the door open for Haliburton's Ryan O'Neill, assisted by Dan Jordan to claim the first goal. Three minutes later, Minden's B.J. Redner, assisted by Cameron Neville, shot from inside the blue line, and with lots of real estate between him and the net, slid a co-operative puck past an unsuspecting goalie to tie the game. Chuck Hopkins placed the go-ahead goal in for Minden to end the second period and give them a narrow 2 - 1 lead.

With a change of ends, the third period was one which offered several opportunities for Minden, but expert defensive moves on Haliburton's part, allayed any possibility of adding to the score. With only 1:33 left in the game, Haliburton intercepted a pass and successfully drove it home to tie the game at 2.

The pressure was definitely on now as this placed the boys in sudden death overtime. Both teams retained their drive as the fourth period began and with a back and forth effort, held each other at bay until the 6:46 mark of the fourth when Haliburton's Dan Jordan, assisted by Andrew Postlethwaite and Mike Morissette brought it all home and claimed the first win for Haliburton in the best 3 out of 5.

With Minden having home ice advantage, Haliburton once again entered our arena for number 1 of the next two games. Tuesday night the boys faced off at 6 p.m. and both teams retained their drive and determination. With an unorganized opening face-off and what threatened to be a possible defensive game, Minden came alive and played some spectacular offensive hockey. There was lots of action in both ends but tonight Minden seemed to have the edge in determination with Sunday's loss looming. Minden's goalie Shane Flood is to be commended for his shutout as he was on for several shots, but with concentration and calmness, met his adversary face to face and cleared his net with emphasis, again to show his determination. Assisting in the shutout were the defensive lines of Clay Davis, Steve Ecclestone, Chris Little and Wayne Kernohan.

With 2:52 left in the first period, Mitch Johnson made a beautiful shot from the corner and managed to bury it deep in the net. Credit also goes to Mitch, in the last game against Fenelon, for an assist on the game winning goal. Sorry Mitch omitting that last week. Both teams continued in a back and forth effort until 23 seconds left in the second. When Chuck Hopkins found the spot to add a little insurance. That was the end of scoring in the game, but Haliburton stayed with it and their team displayed some fine hockey.

We are back here Thursday at 6 p.m. for the tie-breaking game.

The Afghan raffle (beautiful and hand made by Ruth Guertin) was won by Comrade Georgina Deeks, at the March 1st General Meeting. Current raffle is an attractive Quilt (tickets $1.00). This quilt draw will be held on May 3rd at that month's General Meeting night. Ways & Means Chairman Ron Maddock requests that members continue to help with ticket sales.

Comrade Marj Robertson may be out of hospital soon.

A Legion Service was held for departed Comrade George Davidson, and sympathy was expressed. Our Branch was greatly saddened at the untimely passing of Comrade Eric Lewis. Comrade Eric was largely responsible for our new games room (now known as the Eric Lewis Games Room). Twenty-nine members of our Branch attended his funeral service in Bradford, where a Legion memorial service was officiated by B/Gen. (Ret.) Osmond Hopkins OMM, CD., with Comrade Ann McAdam as organist. Our Comrades were graciously received by the Bradford Legion, who served us lunch, with a reception following the service. Our sincere sympathy is again extended to Comrade Isobel Lewis and family.

Council being very careful selecting new administrator

Haliburton County Council will be taking its time in selecting a new administrator for Hyland Crest, and in the mean time, County Clerk Gary McKnight will be filling in.

Bill Howe, who chairs the county's Hyland Crest committee, says they are taking a careful approach to hiring this time around. He said it is important for the committee to take its time and make sure it gets a good administrator.

Dwight Morley resigned from the position in mid March after a dispute with members of the committee. He was the third administrator to leave the home in just over two years.

At a recent County Council meeting, Howe said that what has transpired is best for all concerned.

Ed Gibbons slips in front of Rockcliffe goalie Terry Crowe to receive a pass during the final game of the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League playoffs last Monday. Gibbons scored one goal in this game, but it wasn't on this occasion—here he was a little to ankle-tied to manœuvre. Halls Insurance won this game 9-6 to take the series and the league championship with two straight wins.

Hall's take Men's Rec. trophy

Halls Insurance is this year's winner of the Junior Windover Memorial Trophy. They soundly defeated the Rockcliffe Tavern Hustlers last Monday to take the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League crown.

The Rockcliffe was clearly the strongest team in the league throughout the regular season. However, it was a different story in the playoffs. While Halls coasted to first place in the round robin series, the Rockcliffe struggled, barely winning the berth in the finals.

After some very close games in the round-robin portion of the playoffs, the finals series was a bit of a let down. Halls stomped the Rockcliffe 12-6 in the opener. Last Monday's 9-6 final was a bit closer as the Rockcliffe came up with some late goals. However, they never really challenged the lead.

Halls' Ed Gibbons was the first to make a mark in the last week's game, followed soon with another Halls' goal from Brian Shaw. The Rockcliffe's Dean Hewitt retaliated with one to close the period with a 2-1 Halls advantage.

Halls outscored their opponents five goals to one in the second frame to take an insurmountable lead. The Rockcliffe scored four times in the final period, but it wasn't nearly enough to catch the champions.

Leading Halls in this game with two goals each were Shaw, Kevin Hamilton and Dave Hartwick. Gibbons, Larry Sawyer and Colin Wilson scored one each for the winners.

Scott Hamilton and Hewitt each scored two for the Rockcliffe while singles came from Barry Boice and Daryl Ward.

Following the game, league president Barry Ward presented the trophy. Accepting on behalf of the team was Tommy Miscio.

The season came to a close in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League when Halls Insurance defeated the Rockcliffe in the final. League president Barry Ward presented the Junior Windover Memorial Trophy to Tommy Miscio at the end of the game.

Time for new beginning

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

In the recurring cycle of the seasons, spring is the optimistic season. It's the time for new beginnings for people and for the natural world.

Migrating birds are beginning to return just as they have always done. The first real wave of migrants will be the waterfowl. And the largest and most graceful of all these migrants, the Tundra Swan should be reaching the Great Lakes any day on its way to its Arctic breeding grounds. Although small flocks of swans occur at various points along the lakes, the largest concentration occurs in the Long Point marshes on Lake Erie, and in the neighbouring ponds and fields.

Adult swans have a wingspan of about 7 feet. A flock of these great birds flying with steady rhythm, talking melodiously all the while, is a sight worth experiencing. The Aylmer District Office of the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (OMNR), starting March 11, offers the public the opportunity to view waterfowl, including swans. How long there will be viewing depends on the weather. Last year, owing to the cold weather, the swans lingered on until March 26. For further information contact Bill Murch, Information Services Co-ordinator at the Aylmer Office of the OMNR, (519) 773-9241.

As well as the Tundra Swans there will also be a variety of smaller waterfowl. Often there are rafts of Canvasback, Pintails and Scaup (bluebills), Redheads, Ruddy Ducks and Wood Ducks. Last year there were a number of Ring-necked ducks. There may also be all three species of grebes.

Seeing this congregation of waterfowl we tend to forget that the population of most ducks has been dropping dramatically all this decade. In fact, the Director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services labelled 1988 a "dismal" year for waterfowl. Dry weather conditions since 1980, and dwindling habitat have affected breeding success.

When breeding duck populations hit a 30 year low in 1985, wildlife officials in Canada and the U.S. developed a North American Waterfowl Management Plan in order to rebuild waterfowl populations and restore habitat. However, along with habitat loss, we are going to have to deal with a highly toxic substance, lead, introduced by man into waterfowl habitat. In Canada alone 825 tonnes of lead shot contaminate our wetlands every year. Lead is extremely toxic. A large dose can kill a bird in 1 to 3 days; even a single pellet can be lethal if it is retained in the body long enough.

Waterfowl which tip up to feed off the bottom pick up lead pellets, mistaking them for gravel which they need to digest their vegetarian diet. Lead poisoning is not a pleasant way to die. In a few days the bird's digestive tract is paralysed, and soon the bird is too weak to fly or walk, and finally, if it survives predators, it lapses into a coma.

Predators which do feed on lead poisoned ducks are likely themselves to be in serious trouble. The U.S. reports Bald Eagles lead poisoned when they fed on contaminated ducks. In Ontario the Bald Eagle is an endangered species. Also lead persists in the environment long after its use has been banned. Minnesota banned lead shot in 1987 but the drought in 1988 lowered water levels in the wildlife refuges sufficiently that the Trumpeter Swans, which the state has been trying to reestablish, can now pick up the deadly shot from the previously unreachable muddy bottom, mistaking it for gravel. So far 34 of the flock of 120 free-flying swans have died of lead poisoning.

What is being done? Beginning with the 1991-92 hunting season, the U.S. will require hunters to use steel rather than lead shot for all waterfowl hunting. Canada is beginning to act. Since our federal government administers the Migratory Birds Convention Act, The Canadian Wildlife Service (CWS), a branch of Environment Canada, must work with the Ontario

Ministry of Natural Resources in dealing with issues affecting migratory waterfowl. Beginning in 1990 the CWS has issued a ban on lead shot in heavily hunted areas in Essex and Kent Counties around the shores of Lake St. Clair. The Federation of Ontario Naturalists congratulates the CWS on this first step toward a total ban. We have been urging such a ban for decades, and an article in the Winter 1988 issue of our magazine, Seasons, presented fresh arguments for a ban.

Why has it taken so long to get any action on ridding the environment of an unnecessary toxic substance, especially when a suitable non-toxic (steel) alternative exists? Hunters have resisted the change claiming that steel shot damaged gunbarrels, was more expensive and increased the crippling rate. The U.S. has dismissed these arguments pointing out that most modern firearms are equipped to handle it, that with the new U.S. regulations the price will drop rapidly, and that sportsmen are going to have to learn to use the steel shot properly.

Meanwhile back at Long Point the waterfowl feed and rest unaware of all the perils that surround their return to ancestral nesting grounds. Surely all conservationists ought to welcome the opportunity to remove an unnecessary stress from their existence.

Minden's Kernohan Construction Monarchs maintained constant pressure at the Ops goalmouth last Tuesday night, but had difficulty putting the puck over the line. They only managed one goal in this game, which was equalled by the Ops squad. A period of overtime play did not succeed in breaking the tie in this playoff match at the Minden arena.

Kick the habit

The Lung Association's Countdown Program can help you to kick the habit.

"Countdown" is a program to help you "kick the habit" once and for all. The Lung Association's stop smoking program is really two programs in one: a group program plus a self-help program. In five weeks, you can gain your freedom from smoking. Most smokers have tried to quit at least once, some many times, and "Countdown" is designed to help a person with a genuine desire to quit and to stay quit.

"Countdown" is successful because there is genuine support from group members as well as direction and encouragement from the Lung Association's trained course leader. Members learn about their habit and about coping techniques and alternate behaviours. The atmosphere throughout the course is relaxed and above all, always supportive.

The registration fee for "Countdown" is $75.00. The course will begin on Monday, April 24, 7:30 p.m. at the Health Unit office in Haliburton Village.

To register, send the $75.00 fee to Countdown, c/o Dr. Harry Good, Highland St., Haliburton, Ont. K0M 1S0. Last date for registration is April 21.

For further information about Countdown, call The Lung Association in Lindsay at 324-6497.

A large audience at J.D. Hodgson elementary school was entertained with a lively game of basketball, featuring Canada's miniature version of the Harlem Globetrotters. The Canadian Half Pints battled to a 38-38 tie with the Haliburton All Stars. The little players had such an easy time with the competition, that they were even able to play with buckets over their heads.

Participate in local government

Discovering what local government is all about is often encouraged at Archie Stouffer Elementary School. Many teachers make an effort to take the students to local council meetings. Seen here, a group from Mrs. Davis' class, makes a presentation at a recent meeting of Haliburton County Council. Local Government Week begins on April 10. Municipalities are being encouraged by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs to stage activities that will inform the public about the functions of local government.

More sand wouldn't help roads

art's road superintendent, said there had been increased sanding but the sand wasn't staying on the roads. He said the township put down more sand this year than in any other and would soon run out if there was any more significant snow fall.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said Dysart tries to accommodate by maintaining roads as well as possible but even if they had used 50 per cent more sand it wouldn't have mattered.

Councillor Glen Hodgson said that the portion of Koshlong Lake Road in Dysart's control is zoned SR2, which means it is a seasonal road and not designed to have heavy winter use. Fearrey said the township has undertaken more winter maintenance of seasonal roads to provide access all year round but, "we have to say no at some point. Otherwise we've done a futile bunch of planning in the last 10 years."

The board's policy of having the same bus schedule in the winter as the summer was criticised by Roberts. He said keeping to the same timetable was forcing some bus drivers to drive faster than road conditions permit, in some cases he said the driving is "irresponsible". The increased population along some of the roads has forced the school board to use larger buses, which are harder to maneuver around curves and over hills.

Council decided that a letter be sent to the school board suggesting that parents who live on seasonal roads should drop their children at main roads for pick-up by the buses.

Canada Post Corporation

Rural Report Card #1

In early 1988, Canada Post Corporation made several commitments to our rural customers. We promised more convenience, more outlets, more business for local merchants and more efficient services.

Canada Post Corporation is delivering on all of these promises and more.

Since our program to improve service began, Canada Post Corporation has:

Increased convenience by more than doubling the average hours of postal service in communities where these services are provided through retail postal outlets operated by local businesses.

Increased the number of postal outlets by opening more than 180 new retail postal outlets in rural communities to complement the services offered by a corporate post office, and 10 new postal outlets in communities where no postal outlet existed.

Increased business for local merchants by converting retail postal services from a corporate outlet to local businesses in more than 240 communities, giving merchants the benefits of increased customer traffic.

Increased the efficiency of our service by allowing local merchants to retail postal products and services. This enables Canada Post Corporation to concentrate on efficient pick-up, processing and delivery of the mail.

AND MORE

Free lockbox service. Customers who depend on lockboxes as their primary means of delivery will no longer have to pay a lockbox service fee.

Local delivery and community postal identity have been maintained in every community where the mail system has been changed.

Meeting customers' delivery needs by installing additional lockboxes in retail postal outlets, building community mail centres in convenient locations and expanding rural route delivery.

*Canada Post is in rural Canada to stay.
 That's a promise.*

Small business important

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Almost all businesses in Canada are small businesses, which shows the importance of small business to the Canadian economy.

One-quarter of the private sector profits and wages come from businesses which have fewer than 50 employees. Small businesses have accounted for close to three-quarters of the jobs created in Canada in the past few years. This is because it takes only 47,500 to 420,000 to create a job in a small business, compared to between 4200,000 and 41 million for a job in big industries. Today, almost three million Canadians are employed in small businesses.

Small and medium-sized businesses are Canada's greatest source of new ideas, technological innovations and new markets for our products. With our prosperity becoming increasingly dependent on international markets, small businesses have a bigger role than ever to play in maintaining our world trade position.

The federal government has taken many steps to help small businesses become more effective in the Canadian economy. The $500,000 capital gains exemption for investments in small business shares has been accelerated.

New RRSP investment rules make it easier for small businesses to raise equity capital. The general small business corporate tax rate has been cut to 12 per cent from 15. The paper burden which hindered the normal development of many small businesses has been reduced.

The government has also started a program to help small businesses sell to the federal government.

Together with the Canada-U.S. Free Trade Agreement, which small business groups overwhelmingly supported, these policies will serve to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of small business for all Canadians.

Hello again. As usual our news begins with us having a tea party Thursday afternoon. This week the ladies from Haliburton Baptist Church provided us with a delicious lunch and a St. Patrick and birthday cake in honour of all those who have birthdays in March.

We are all very pleased to have Mary Burgess back with us from Lindsay Hospital.

In the evening a Kinsman, with his wife and two sons came and called bingo for us.

St. Patrick's day was a day for the Residents to rest and get ready for our formal dinner when we have our families with us. For a month at Arts and Crafts we were preparing the decorations etc. which were planned and supervised by Doris and Linda. Mark Schell and his staff prepared and served a really delicious dinner. The entertainment was provided by Bill Payne, Eldon Deacon and Don Alton, which everyone enjoyed and we thank them sincerely.

Saturday afternoon Tanya Allaire came and called bingo for an hour.

Mr. Burgess conducted the Sunday evening service with thirty-two in attendance. Alice Todd had her daughter-in-law Barbara with her for lunch.

Lavern and Grace called on Dora Dawson the first of last week and June Johnson of Toronto visited her on Sunday.

Cora Upton had her two daughters, Dorothy and Fern to see her Friday.

Monday night movies were "Bike Style" and "Wet Back Hound". We enjoyed both.

Tuesday morning service was conducted by Rev. Ed Moll.

"WHERE THE ACTION IS"

$22,000 up for grabs at next dog derby

The Minden Sled Dog Derby Committee announced today that funding has been secured for the 1990 race. Race Sponsor Martin Pet Foods of Elmira, Ontario, will once again provide a purse of $20,000. They have also added $2,000 day money and increased support for administrative and promotional costs to $8,000.

Race Governor Val Loughheed expressed her appreciation of Martin's continuing support for the annual race which, in just five years, has become the world's largest limited-class sprint race. "Dealing with Martin's over the past four years has been a real pleasure," she said, "because they are professional and have been truly supportive of our race and of the sport in general. Their co-operation during the disappointment of this year's cancellation just goes to prove how well they understand what sled-dog racing is all about."

The 1989 race had to be cancelled due to dangerously icy conditions on the race course. "We have an obligation to ensure the safety of both the dogs and the drivers," Loughheed said at the time the cancellation was announced, "and we just couldn't, in good conscience, hold the race under those conditions." The committee also felt it was imperative to protect the integrity of the race which has built up an excellent reputation among mushers since its inception in 1985 and is the only one in Ontario sanctioned by the International Sled Dog Racing Association.

The 1990 edition of the Minden Sled Dog Derby will be held on January 13th and 14th. It will once again feature races in the four- and eight-dog classes over the two days, plus a kid-and-mutt race after the official heats on Saturday.

It is anticipated that next year's race will also see several new attractions for spectators, including skiing behind dog teams, a demonstration of Scandinavian kick-sledding, and a winter art exhibit featuring the work of local artists and artisans. "Catch The Drift", a new song written and recorded by local musicians, will be the theme song for the entire weekend.

All these features ensure the special place of the Minden Sled Dog Derby as a major event on the sled-dog racing circuit and an exciting winter weekend for the whole family.

IN MEMORIAM

STEELE: Gene. In loving memory of a dear friend, who passed away suddenly on March 25, 1985.

His life was like a shining star
The brightest in the sky,
And in our quiet moments
We often wonder why,
Someone who touched us all somehow
So very young should die,
And in our times of solitude
We sit and softly cry,
To the boy who touched our hearts and souls
We still can't say good-bye.

Fondly remembered by Sherry Sawyer, Deloris and Scott Bailey.
